ARSADI – Cold Thoughts

Like ice cubes and loaded guns
I'm melting under a different sun
Fear on nothing else but the truth

My mind is dark, always the same
Got no one else but myself to blame
Still searching for ways to blame it on you

The wind is speaking in summer's tongue
But this is the moment I'm running from
I just can't let it go through
'Cause summer is you

Cold thoughts, cold thoughts
That's what's been saving me
Cold thoughts keep my mind in a frozen zone

Cold thoughts, cold thoughts
That's where I'll be
Cold thoughts are my world when you are gone

Oh gone, gone

Your laugh is just a memory
Mine is at the bottom of the sea
And I won't find it even if I try

I paint things in black and blue
I know I won't get to you
But it sure helps me to survive

My eyes are focused on the icy skies
Maybe up there my feeling dies
Maybe the ones for you
Well I hope they do

Cold thoughts, cold thoughts
That's what been saving me
Cold thoughts keep my mind in a frozen zone

Cold thoughts, cold thoughts
That's where I'll be
Cold thoughts are my world when you are gone

Cold thoughts, cold thoughts
That's what been saving me
Cold thoughts keep my mind in a frozen zone

Cold thoughts, cold thoughts
That’s where I’ll be
Cold thoughts are my world when you are gone

Oh them cold thoughts
Are gone so gone
