ARSADI – Deep Waters

I've walked in the darkness, in search for something bright
I've convinced myself that my notions are just right
Now I feel lost in this mind maze
Seems like my world is falling out of grace

So I dive in deep waters
For someone to pull me up
And I breath smokes and fires
For something to fill my lungs
And I drown in my troubles
To feel my soul
So I dive in deep waters

I kicked out Wilson, before I cast away
I tried to be lonely to see what they may say
Now I am waiting for the riptide
To sail on by now, let the wind be my guide

So I dive in deep waters
For someone to pull me up
And I breath smokes and fires
For something to fill my lungs
And I drown in my troubles
To feel my soul
So I dive in deep waters

Alone at sea, the storm might find me
Come on through
And I might feel something real
Yeah I'm stuck in a pattern of feeling so blue, oh, yeah

So I dive in deep waters
For someone to pull me up
And I breath smokes and fires
For something to fill my lungs
And I drown in my troubles
To feel my soul
So I dive in deep waters
