ARSADI – Green Walls

I feel small in here
Maybe something I'll get used to
Quite like fallen tears
But never like losing you

Green green walls
Green green walls
Green green walls
Green green walls

Of all these voices, that spins inside my mind
And of all our places, that you left behind
What haunts me most, is our old four green walls
Where we kissed and danced around in thorns
Yeah all these green shades reminds me of my mistakes

Thoughts kill me from time to time
I know that you don't know
That I would still drown in your eyes
Though we ended long ago

In green green walls
Green green walls
Green green walls
Green green walls

Of all these voices, that spins inside my mind
And of all our places, that you left behind
What haunts me most, is our old four green walls
Where we kissed and danced around thorns
Yeah all these green shades reminds me of my mistakes

Can't quite imagine, how we could have been
If I didn't play, my cards the way I did
Maybe our green walls would still embrace our lives
And you would still be happy in these arms of mine

Of all these voices, that spins inside my mind
And of all our places, that you left behind
What haunts me most, is our old four green walls
Where we kissed and danced around in thorns
Yeah all these green shades reminds me of my mistakes
