ARSADI – Love Should Be Like

In the heart of the town
I've strolled around too many times
Dreaming in clouds

I'm in another place where money equals grace
And it fucks with my mind

Green shades from the outskirts remind me of a time
When I was seventeen and love was still a dream
No troubles in my sky

Swim in my river, swim in my mind
Search in my stories and see what you find
Green woods and frozen stones
Pretty little things I want for my own
Just like love should feel like home
Just like love should be like

If you could take me on I wouldn't be so alone
Take control of my sight
Guide me away to a different day
To a saviour during my nights

My love would fall like snow, slowly then cover you whole
Will I ever find a place of my own?
A love like home

Swim in my river, swim in my mind
Search in my stories and see what you find
Green woods and frozen stones
Pretty little things I want for my own
Just like love should feel like home
Just like love should be like

Sunny waters, summer skies
Snowy rainfalls and bright blue eyes
When I find you with a lover's pride
Deep inside you, I'll find my price

Swim in my river, swim in my mind
Search in my stories and see what you find
Green woods and frozen stones
Pretty little things I want for my own
Just like love should feel like home
Just like love should be like
