ARSADI - Overcome The Night

Sick thoughts come crawling
They haunt your mind, a dreadful welter
No signs of shelter in the storm

Deeper down you're falling
A bottomless well, you reach inferno
Is it possible to let go and conform?

You're losing track of time and space
Can't escape this endless maze
Panic doubles

Your tired heart beats to the extreme
Is this real or just a dream?
Will your troubles fade away?

I know you feel helpless
When you lose all defenses
And see how the sun no longer shines in your life

But hold on 'til dawn
After the darkest of times
There's a light

The room is getting smaller
No air to breathe, under the pressure
Can't fight the oppressor of your own

In an age of anxiety
Spinning fast with no gravity
Will your troubles ever fade away?

I know you feel helpless
When you lose all defenses
And see how the sun no longer shines in your life

But hold on 'til dawn
After the darkest of times
There's a light

You'll overcome the night

I know you feel helpless
When you lose all defenses
And see how the sun no longer shines in your life

But hold on 'til dawn
After the darkest of times
There's a light
